Fund Request Of President Is Cut Down

House Committee Cuts Nearly Billion And Half From Budget

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The House Appropriations Committee today voted a "to-the-bone" cut of nearly one billion dollars in President Truman's 42 and one-half billion dollar budget for the 1951 fiscal year.

The committee approved $29,045,030,164 in funds for the federal government against Mr. Truman's request for new cash and commitments totalling $30,612,830,668. Although this is a cut of one and one-half billions, the committee explained that one-half billion will not be reflected in 1951.

The remainder of the funds making up the 42 and one-half billion dollar budget, with the exception of foreign aid provisions, already have been appropriated by Congress and consequently no committee action was required on them.

Further Slash?

Mr. Truman's budget may be in for a further slash when the foreign aid appropriations are acted upon. Several proposals already have been made in Congress for sharp cuts in Marshall Plan and arms aid funds.

In reporting out the first omnibus appropriation bill in modern times, the committee noted that its measure left an estimated deficit of $4,153,682,312 for the 1951 fiscal year which begins July 1.

The group lopped off $979,498,060 from estimated government expenditures and asserted that "no stone has been left unturned" in its drive for economy.

The 45-member committee reported to the House that it had cut President Truman's request for new cash and commitments by $1,567,900,504. However, much of this saving will not be reflected in the 1951 fiscal year because it is not contemplated that all will be spent then.

Spring arrived officially at 11:36 o'clock (EST) last night. But the weather bureau in Washington predicts temperatures will be below normal in most parts of the country for the next month.

Dear Pa News: Just letting you know we saw and heard our first cardinal of this year on Saturday as we were having a late breakfast. He was on our plum tree in our back yard. His bright red plumage against a red background made a pretty picture.—Mrs. Albert C. Cullis, 427 Epworth street.

Local residents will welcome the announcement that the bridge is to be constructed over the Neshannock creek this summer. The structure will divert much of the heavy truck traffic from the downtown section and cause traffic to move at a much faster pace.

Spring housecleaning has begun in earnest in many sections of the city even though fires are noted in the furnaces as evidenced by the smoke coming from the chimneys. Paperhanging is in progress in many quarters. The early starters will be enabled to relax later on and watch their neighbors do their work.

Unpaved streets of the city and district are in an exceptionally "soupy" condition at this time. Rains of the past few days have softened the street surfaces and motorists are having some difficulty in getting in and out in numerous cases.

As forecast, spring made its entrance about midnight, in weather conditions that were murky and wet.

Nearly 900 Birthday Cards Sent To Girl In Hospital

It will be a long, long time before sweet little Sharon Lynn Leichtenberger forgets her fifth birthday anniversary, celebrated on Monday.

Although she is a patient in the New Castle hospital, and has been confined there for nearly a year, since she was seriously burned, Sharon Lynn had one of the nicest of birthdays ever held for a little girl.

And as for the people of New Castle who so warmly answered an appeal to send Sharon Lynn birthday cards, Sharon sends her sincere thanks.

Nearly 900 Cards

Sharon Lynn received 850 birthday cards on Monday. At the last count a few cards were still arriving today and will probably continue to do so the entire week. In addition she received many lovely handkerchiefs from people all over the city. Books came in by the dozens.

Sentencing Of Gibbs Delayed

New Trial Appeal Postpones Sentence

LANCASTER, Pa., March 21.—(INS)—Edward L. Gibbs' petition for a new trial in Lancaster county court today postponed for at least three months formal sentencing of the defendant who was convicted of slaying a 21-year-old Franklin and Marshall college stenographer.

Defense Counsel W. Hensel Brown listed 17 reasons in the petition filed on behalf of Gibbs, a 25-year-old F. & M. business student found guilty Thursday night of fatally bludgeoning Marion Louise Baker in a "lover's lane" three miles south of Lancaster January 10.

Court officials said the appeal may not be called until the June term of argument court.

Brown reserved the right to file additional reasons after studying transcribed testimony.

He claimed the jury's decision contravened law, evidence and the charge of President Judge Joseph B. Wissler. He also contended that the court erred in admitting to evidence eight photographs of the girl at the murder scene, plus torn underclothing.

Gibbs, who claimed the slaying was the result of what he called an impulse, will remain in the county lockup until called for sentencing.

Parents Of Quadruplets Offer Them For Adoption

SALT STE. MARIE, March 21.—(INS)—The desperate parents of five-months-old quadruplets offered them for adoption today because "we cannot possibly care for the babies."

The adoption offer was made by the father of the infant girls, Ossie Hargrave, a low income worker of Sault Ste. Marie. Hargrave said:

"In desperation I am throwing my pride to the winds. I am told in detail of the problem of feeding and clothing four infants when he and his wife had expected one child. He emphasized

'Mrs. America' Wants Divorce

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 21.—(INS)—The blonde beauty who captured the "Mrs. America" crown at Asbury Park, N. J., last fall wants a divorce.

Shapely Mrs. Frances Cloyd sued her 28-year-old auto mechanic husband, Arthur T. Cloyd late yesterday. She leveled a general accusation of extreme cruelty at him.

Her attorney, R. M. Switzer, issued a statement in which he said that Cloyd for years had "maintained an attitude of indifference and neglect," causing embarrassment and humiliation that finally destroyed "the legitimate ends of matrimony."

The 22-year-old statuesque blonde asked for custody of the couple's three children, Tommy, 5, Terry, 2, and Patricia, 7 months, and for reasonable alimony.

She and Cloyd were married at Lufkin, Texas, in 1943.

that he and his wife love the children dearly but simply cannot afford them.

"The babies are out for adoption," he said.

Hargrave said the city of Sault Ste. Marie had subscribed five thousand dollars to provide a home for the family. But, he said, "that wouldn't build a shack at today's prices."

He said he retains a hope of keeping the family intact but added that "without a home we cannot possibly care for the babies."

Hargrave said, "I am asking for help of any kind."

Acheson Gets Strong Backing By President

Truman Takes Steps Supporting Cabinet Member

By ROBERT NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

U. S. SUB BASE, Key West, Fla., March 21.—President Truman concentrated his attention today on safeguarding the administration's foreign policy against political attacks within the nation.

The President's defensive moves center around backing up Secretary of State Dean Acheson 100 per cent in his administration of the state department and his conduct of foreign policy in a continuing era of uncertainty.

Four Steps Taken

Mr. Truman has taken four steps in as many days to make it clear to Acheson's critics—but more importantly to let the rest of the world, including Soviet Russia—know that the nation's policies toward the rest of the world are being carried out as he directs.

In the face of critical barbs aimed at Acheson by Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., and from radio and newspaper columnists, the President has:

1. Stated he has no intention of replacing Acheson, and that he believes the state department is "being run admirably."

2. Asserted that "rumors" that Acheson will be replaced by Chief Justice of the United States Fred M. Vinson are "absolutely without foundation."

3. Decided that, if necessary, he will open state department personnel files to inspection by members of the Senate Loyalty Investigating Committee to aid Acheson in his fight against charges by McCarthy that he is harboring Communists in important positions.

4. Made it known that he approved fully of Acheson's two foreign policy speeches in California defining policy toward the spread of Communism in the Far East.

V.F.W. Auxiliary Presents Flag

An impressive patriotic program was held Monday afternoon in Mayor John F. Haven's office in the new municipal building when members of Corp. Harry L. McBride, Post 522, V.F.W. auxiliary, made a presentation of the American flag to the municipal building in honor of the 26th anniversary of the auxiliary, which falls on March 24.

Mrs. Mayne Black offered the invocation and a reading entitled "Flag of Our Country" was given by Mrs. Helen Gordon, president-elect of the auxiliary.

A fine tribute, "America's Emblem" was delivered by Mrs. Lillian Davis. Mrs. Beatrice McNicholas, president of the auxiliary, with two comrades from the post, Joe Butia and Robert Bruno, made the flag presentation to the mayor.

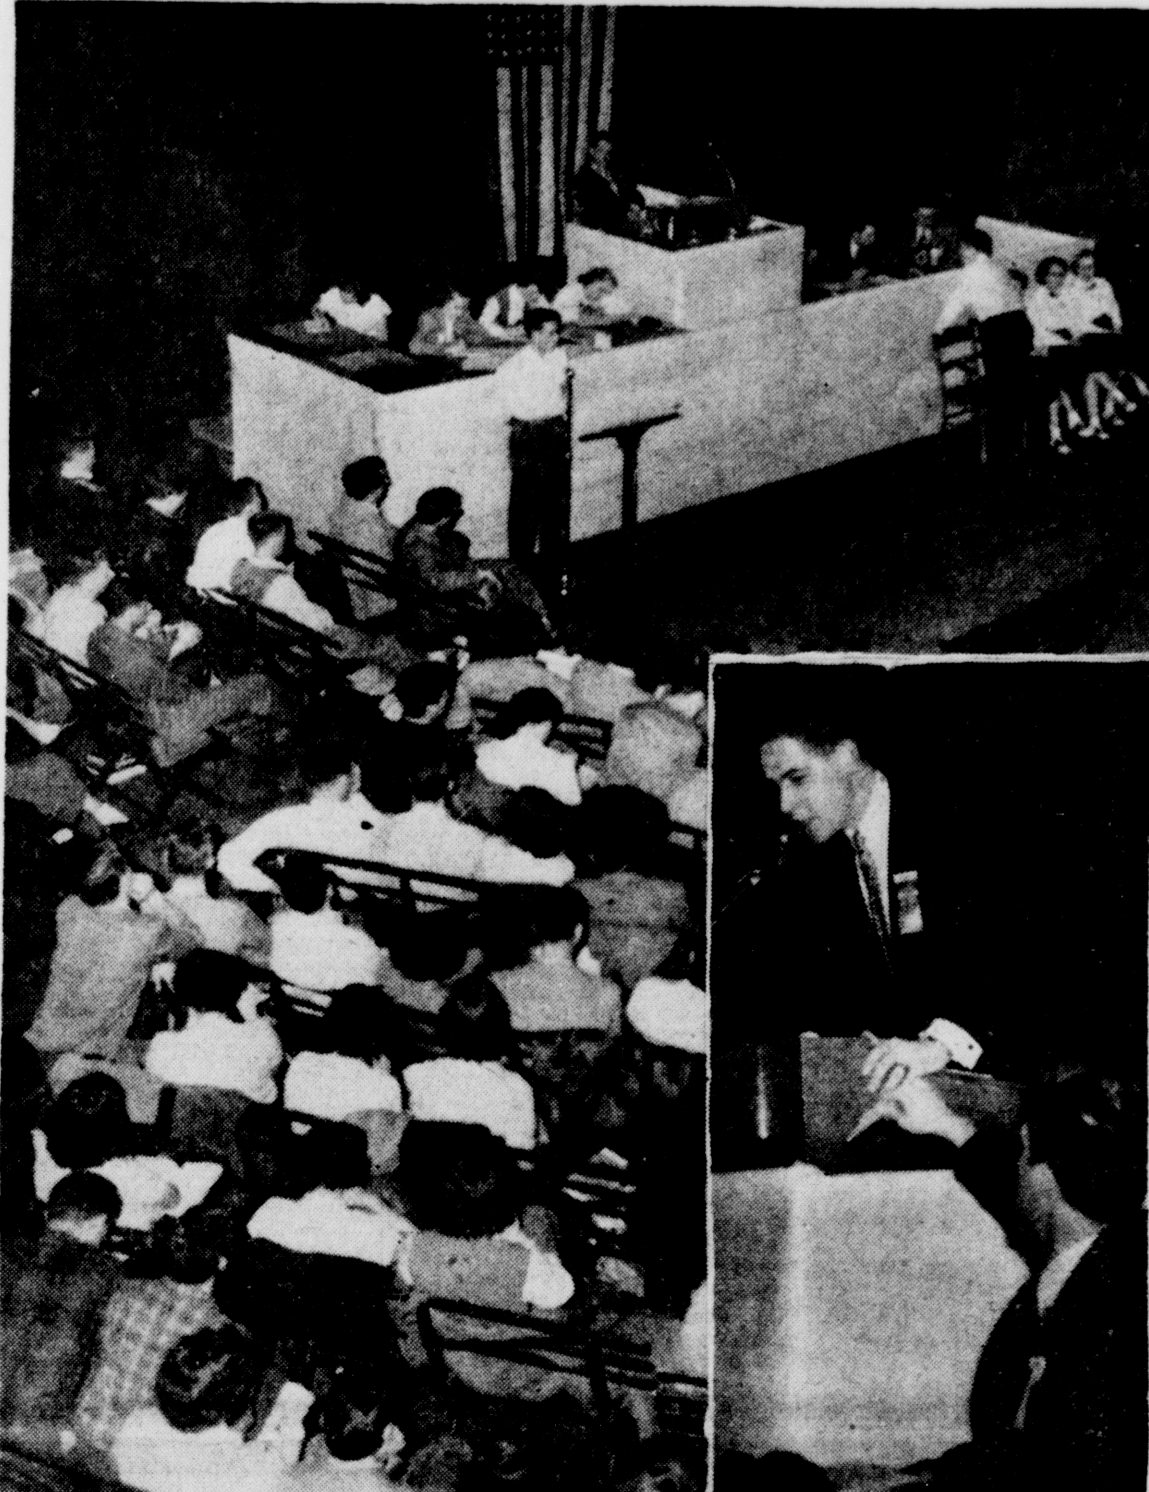

Mayor Haven responded, praising the auxiliary for their services rendered the community and for (Continued on Page Two)

First Bids On Beaver River Bridge Taken

HARRISBURG, March 21.—(INS)—An unofficial low bid of $1,568,272 was filed today with the Pennsylvania Turnpike commission by the American Bridge company for the construction of the superstructure of the Beaver river bridge on the western extension of the express highway.

The Philadelphia firm's bid will be scrutinized for compliance with specifications before being awarded officially. The bridge is located in North Sewickley and Big Beaver townships in Beaver county.

The Turnpike commission reported Teller & Cooper, Inc., of Brooklyn, N. Y., submitted a $391,750 bid to build 36 toll booths for 50 toll lanes and 14 interchange toll plazas on both the eastern and western extensions of the superhighway, it was the only bid.

'Mock Congress' Begins Taking Action On Bills

Regardless of what the national congress does on the Langer bill, it was defeated 178-90 by the "mock congress" held at Westminster gym Monday night at New Wilmington.

The House is composed of 435 representatives chosen from the student body and tonight and Wednesday night the body will function much the same as the national body does, consider bills and vote upon them.

In Washington the bill is sponsored by Senator William Langer of North Dakota. In New Wilmington the bill is known as the Yount bill with the same provisions.

It calls for the prohibition of advertising alcoholic beverages in interstate traffic which would mean magazines, radio, television and newspapers that go beyond the state in which they are published.

The bill had warm support and equally warm opposition. By those opposing it the bill was termed "a restriction of free press," a violation of the First Amendment.

Six Prisoners In Jail Break

BUENA VISTA, Colo., March 21.—(INS)—Warden James Thomas of the Colorado State Reformatory at Buena Vista, said six prisoners overpowered a guard and escaped in a pickup truck last night. He tentatively identified the youths as James McDonald, 23, of Sterling; Leon C. McGeigh, 18, Littleton; John Benevides, 19, Durango; John Wood, 18, Trinidad; George Bailey, 22, Fort Collins, and a prisoner the warden said he believed was the ringleader—Donald Mitchell, 21, Berthoud.

Thomas said the inmates attacked guard Ed Murdie, 64, as he was making routine bed check. They knocked him unconscious with a piece of lead pipe, took his night stick, riot (gas) gun and then bound him securely.

He said he retains a hope of keeping the family intact but added that "without a home we cannot possibly care for the babies."

Senator Says Man Is Still In U.S. Department

Demands Loyalty List Be Secured In This Special Case

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., charged today that he has given Senate investigators the name of the man he considers the top Russian espionage agent in this country.

McCarthy insisted that the man named is still "connected with" the state department, and is one of those he listed as having Communist connections.

Demand Loyalty Files

He demanded that Chairman Tydings (D) Md., and other democratic members of the investigating subcommittee obtain immediately secret loyalty files on this case. McCarthy said he had called this particular case to Tydings' attention.

Tydings earlier declared that McCarthy had failed to give him the name of "a single person accused of being a Communist or a card-carrying Communist." The chairman recalled that the Republican on February 10 at Wheeling, W. Va., charged there were 205 "Communists" then in the State department, and on February 12 at Reno, Nev., trimmed this number to "57 card-carrying Communists."

Await Truman Decision

Eight Killed As Auto Crashes Into Gas Truck

ROCKFORD, Ill., March 21.—(INS)—Eight persons, including a teen-age girl and two babies, were killed last night in the head-on collision of an automobile and an unloaded gasoline tank truck in nearby Brockton.

Winnebago County Sheriff's Deputy Hills Pence said all of the crash victims were occupants of the car which apparently went out of control, ran off the road, and then swerved back into the path of the truck.

Tentatively Identified

He said six of the dead were tentatively identified as: Ray Rinehart, 30, address unknown; his brother, Robert, 37, the driver of the car; Robert's wife, Patricia, 30; and their 16-month-old daughter, Mary May Elizabeth, all of Rockford; Edna Taylor, 16, who lived at the same address; and John Reedy, 47, unmarried, also of Rockford.

The truck driver, Willis Spring, 29, of Monticello, Wis., an employee of the Badger Petroleum Co., was uninjured. No charge was placed against him but he was held for a coroner's investigation.

Death Of Justice Maxey Adds To Political Battle

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, March 21.—The red hot Republican factional fight for control of the party today injected into the 1950 campaign another $23,000-a-year State Supreme court post.

The appellate bench vacancy resulting from the sudden death yesterday at Pittsburgh of Chief Justice George W. Maxey, 72, of Scranton, was thrown open to speculation only by the rapidly approaching show down fight.

Inasmuch as the deadline has passed for certifying to county boards of election the statewide offices to be filled this year, the State Elections Bureau reported that the vacancy cannot be filled by the voters until the general election of November, 1951.

Precedent Fixed

The decision fixing the precedent, oddly enough, was rendered by Justice Maxey in March, 1941 in a similar case.

Gov. James H. Duff, a candidate for the Republican U. S. Senatorial nomination, may appoint a successor who will serve until January, 1952. If the appointee chooses, he may seek a full 21-year term in next year's fall election which will be highlighted by Municipal balloting, according to the bureau.

Spring came in with a veil on her face and a hint of tears in her eyes. The tears were raindrops that spattered down and the veil was over the skies. A veil of gray with a dash of slate a sort of a drab-like gray, and it isn't the spring we had hoped would come, but it's up, forty-four today. tion of the constitution", a beginning of a movement to bring back prohibition, "an alarming issue", "censorship that could easily spread".

Proponents of the bill said it would "guard the morals and welfare of the nation", "not prohibitory but restrictive", "a regulatory measure for health and safety" and advertisements were produced from national magazine designed to show that the liquor industry was endeavoring to build a desire for alcoholic beverages.

Both Sides Heard

"Speaker" Glenn Reed was impartial in recognizing both sides. He recognized a speaker from each side alternately, held each speaker to the prescribed five minutes and twice entertained a motion to close debate. The second motion carried the time the allotted one hour for debate had expired.

If at times the debate was seasoned with humor, the "representative" recognized it as such and refused to consider it as statesmanship.

The session Monday night was well handled and parliamentary law was followed throughout. Insofar as possible the session was a copy of the national House, and despite some handicaps as to space, time and printed bills, the session went off smoothly and efficiently.

Political Science Department

While the idea had its birth in the Department of Political Science, the student body as a whole entered into it. The state representative was carried out by political affiliation which meant a Democratic organized House.

At 7:40 "Speaker" Glenn Reed called the House to order and prayer was offered by Chaplain Richard Wakefield. Robert Patton, chairman of the rules committee, read the agenda for the session and placed the Yount bill first upon the calendar.

Once before the House, the oratorical fireworks started. The interesting thing about the debate was that the various points of the bill were pin pointed and if the national House does as thorough a job in considering the Langer bill it will get thorough treatment.

Other bills were considered at sparked at the state capitol, following the bureau announcement, whether the governor will fill the vacancy prior to the May 16 primary or allow it to hang until a later date.

Inasmuch as Republicans on many occasions in the past have supported so-called sitting judge appointees, the man chosen by Duff may play a part in his campaign strategy to defeat his old line GOP opposition.

The appointee chosen by Duff would serve throughout the first year of the next governor who will take over in January, 1951.

Political speculation immediately revolved around State Attorney General T. McKee Chidsey, of Easton.

be made available to the Tydings' group.

The State department is understood to have recommended to Mr. Truman that all files be shown to investigating committees to "get everything out in the open" in answer to McCarthy's charge of Communist infiltration in that department.

But Tydings said he has been informed that Chairman Seth Richardson of the Civil Service Loyalty Appeals board and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover both oppose releasing loyalty records.

Hiss One of Links

"I have already given Senator Tydings the name of the man I consider the top Russian espionage agent in this country. Alger Hiss was merely one of the links in his espionage chain. He is still connected with the State department," McCarthy asserted that if Tydings wanted him to file "formal charges" in order to speed action on obtaining the files he would do so.

Number Of Complicating Factors

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's proposal for a bi-lateral union between Germany and France is still reverberating in world chancelleries and modifications are being made with each successive consideration. International observers are more or less unanimously convinced that while the suggestion has undoubted merits, there are a number of complicating factors.

1—Bi-lateral agreements are in automatic violation in spirit if not in letter of United Nations principles.

2—Problems of deep importance between Germany and France call for solution before any far-reaching agreement can be reached.

3—The rank and file of the French people do not show any definite desire at the moment to pin their ultimate faith on a German resurgence.

4—The division of Germany itself into two coldly-separated sectors makes it impossible for the German people to express their will as a whole and Dr. Adenauer cannot be too sure that he is speaking for the millions of Germans who are under communist domination.

In view of these four formidable obstacles, Dr. Adenauer has signified his willingness if not his desire to subordinate present disputes to the immeasurably greater future.

West Germany Dissatisfied
West Germany for example, is exceedingly dissatisfied with the 50-year pact which gives France priority in absorbing coal produced by the rich Saar valley.

He has offered to drop this argument on the grounds that a full-scale Franco-German agreement not only far transcends it in importance but would automatically involve a settlement of issues in dispute.

Furthermore, he has promised that Germany will enter into any discussion with France, impeded by no prior demands or commitments whatever.

And further to allay suspicions and speed up procedure if this can be done.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHAT MAKES CHILD CONCENTRATE

We parents and teachers are wont to say, "This child does not succeed at his books because he doesn't try hard enough." We would more often be correct if we said, "He doesn't try hard enough at his books because he doesn't succeed at them."

Yesterday we considered the child who does not concentrate on the matter at hand. We saw the folly of trying to command him to concentrate.

While one might force a child to stand or sit in a certain position and turn his head and eyes in a certain direction, nobody in the world can compel any other person to keep any specific idea constantly in his head. We can, to some degree, determine what a child shall attend to at a given moment by exposing his eyes, ears and other senses to what he is most likely to respond to.

But beyond this temporary moment will depend upon all the feelings and experiences he has had; what is already in his head and heart. Now different children have different heads and hearts; they have different brains, nerves and bodies to begin with.

Better Than Others

Some, therefore, succeed at learning from books better than others and thus concentrate better and continue to succeed. All we can do is to set the stage so that the brain cells and nerves of a child will function for the most desirable results. But the same basic principles obtain in setting this stage, regardless of how dull or bright the child is. He must succeed at what he is doing mentally in order to keep his mind on it continuously for an appreciable time, in order to concentrate. Therefore, what he is supposed to be learning at any moment must be easy enough for him to succeed at, hard enough to challenge his effort, and he must feel it worthy of his attention.

New Game

You must at a new game as of cards. As you began you were in great dread that the other players who were skilled at the game might think you stupid. The many rules of this game at first seemed so intricate that you felt hopeless, when you just couldn't keep your mind centered on each item of instruction. Your mind wandered. But as you kept at the game and felt you were succeeding a bit you felt better and found yourself able to pay more strict attention, to concentrate better.

During the first world war, I was painfully confused during my first week of military drill. At times I was even unsure about right and left. I just could not concentrate. I felt awfully stupid and the response of my comrades made me sure I was. But one night sitting on my bunk I thought through the new basic commands and how to follow them. Then it was easy and I had no trouble paying strict attention during drill thereafter.

Many a child in the classroom has similar experiences. If only the teacher or parent would help him master the few steps in the learning he had failed to get, how easily he might improve and how much better thereafter he might concentrate. To this end, the following bulletins of mine were prepared and may be had in an envelope stamped with six cents sent me at 235 E. 45th street, New York 17, N. Y. "The Child Who Cannot Concentrate" "Tips for Students" and my three home helps in reading, spelling and arithmetic.

he done, he has suggested that the whole idea of Franco-German unity be worked out within the framework of the Council of Europe, that idealistic assemblage of leaders and laymen who are to meet again next month at Strasbourg on the Rhine.

Rather Different Tone
The whole picture thus has taken on a rather different tone and texture than when Adenauer first proposed it in the apparently utopian belief that centuries of traditions and nationalistic differences could be dissolved overnight.

Adenauer was more or less compelled to clarify his position by inferences or outright charges that the approach he is suggesting for European peace threatens to undermine the Council of Europe, which since its inception has had hard going.

Former Prime Minister Churchill, one of the most powerful propagandists, was forced to drop all efforts in its behalf a few months ago to prepare for the British general election.

Now that is over. But the fact his Conservative party almost won it, while the Laborite regime dominated, has not helped to devote the bulk of his attention again to the home front.

Precarious Situation
The precarious situation existing in the closely-divided House of Commons applies to Conservatives and Laborites alike.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee has a present over-all majority of only five votes. This means that he could be thrown out of office on a snap vote at a time when his defenses were unprepared.

But should this happen too soon, or at an inopportune time, Churchill might lose much of his present advantage and have to face a new general election under conditions that would be far distant from promising him a certain victory.

Then there is the matter of France's recurring political crises and the new one that has arisen in Belgium over the unabated desire of exiled King Leopold to return to his throne.

Under conditions of absolute political quietude—if ever those could be brought about in Europe—a Franco-German union might well become a crusade, with an enormous and enthusiastic amount of backing everywhere. But at the moment, complexities and confusions seem to have prevailed over any clear-cut consideration of the issue. Dr. Adenauer realizes this. But he seems determined to keep the idea alive and in circulation just as long as is humanly possible.

WISE GARDENER

Time was the warm ascending sun found me with gardening begun. Much I'd dig the frozen clay. Believing spring had come to stay.

Though wiser neighbors used to scoff, The winter dressing I'd take off And leave the roses, white and red, Unblanketed to freeze in bed.

So much I wanted flowers to bloom, With haste to plant, to death I'd doom.

The marigold and mignonette Because the ground was cold and wet.

But now I let the roses sleep Beneath the covers warm and deep. I've learned my lesson, and delay All gardening 'til early May.

Ninety-five per cent of all driving cues are obtained through the eyes. The other five per cent through the other senses. It is imperative, therefore, that to meet the terrific demands of today's driving conditions the eyesight of the individual driver must be in excellent condition. If you feel that your vision is less than normal, don't hesitate to consult your eye specialist.

TOTAL DIPLOMACY?

Barber Shop Progress

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

The first time I ever got my hair cut (excepting those infant snips and clips by Mama) was in a barber shop about the size of a phone booth and I sat on an unadorned pine plank stretched across the arms of a chair.

The barber was a man in his fifties or so, who had taken up the cutting of hair when his cotton crop failed for the seventh year in a row and he found an extra pair of scissors in his wife's sewing basket.

Idea Was Very Simple
His idea of hair cutting was very simple. His motto was "Get It Off," and whether his customers were young or old they departed from his shop with little more left than a top knot. As his was the only barber shop in town most of the male citizens went about looking much like freshly yanked-up onions. Somewhere this rural scalp artist had gotten hold of a pair of clippers that were as rusty as a garden gate hinge and which hadn't been sharpened since "Tin-pencane and Tyler Too" was on everyone's lips.

What the clippers didn't clip off, they pulled out. To this day my head bears the scars of those clippers.

The floor was littered with clippings which provided a soft carpet, the only luxury in the shop. The supply of tonics was limited, the barber preferring to treat himself internally with them rather than rub them on the scalps of his patrons—or victims. If the stuff he kept on his shelves really grew hair, then the lining of his stomach must have had the appearance of a Shetland pony that had been combed the wrong way.

Have Come Long Way
Barber shops have come a long way since those dear and unhappy remembered days. The latest evidence that they have come from Miss Mary Troja, energetic press agent for the Beverly Wilshire hotel in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Miss Troja's dispatch, written with all the formality of a State Department White Paper, tells of the formal opening of the new barber shop in that hotel in Reading.

Miss Troja's latest contribution to belle lettres I couldn't quite make out whether the new shop was one devoted chiefly to the cutting of hair and shaving off of whiskers, or a combination of the reading room of the Union club, the north-east wing of the Louvre, the first ten rows of Carnegie Hall, and the Early American wing of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Chairs Are Placed In Alcoves
The chairs are placed in alcoves and were especially designed by an internationally known barber chair designer. The cabinets all are custom made. There is soundproofing, air conditioning, special lighting arrangements, and music by Teleonic. I gather that the walls are hung with Titians and Paphaels and Picassos, that the barbers are all descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers, and that fifth-and-sixth-generation Vanderbilts, Morgans, and Rockefellers are in charge of hanging up coats, dusting off customers, and shoeing them.

Wonder how one goes about joining such a barber shop? I suppose you have to be proposed by a member, then investigated by the membership committee, and finally passed on by the board of governors.

And I wonder what the dues are? Bet they soak you plenty. This shop is almost certain to have a country club where members may play polo, golf, and get a manicure while dancing to the music of a name orchestra on Saturday nights.

Surely would be nice to be rich enough to join such a barber shop. But I guess it is not for the likes of you and me.

One Man's Opinion

That Gubitchev is going home with his eyes popping out—He never before heard of a country where the judge says "15 years—or would you rather go home?"

Try that in traffic court the next time you get a ticket—Just tell the judge that instead of a fine you think you'd rather go home and forget about it.

Russia has somewhat the same system—They'll ask a fellow if he'd rather go to prison or be with his people.

If he says he'd rather be with his people they round up his people too.

But the Gubitchev case gave me a splendid idea—When the Internal Revenue people come around to arrest me I shall say "I am also a spy for Britain, kindly book me a suite on the Queen Mary."

If they give me any argument I will really become a spy for Britain and send Attlee the secret of Harry's success.

Takes Dim View Of Affairs

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—My favorite bartender—a fellow of infinite charm and shrewdness—is a burly, spiky-haired, ever-talking chap named Clarence who presides over a certain stag bar—the one place in my home town where females never tread.

Clarence takes a dim view of the way our political affairs are drifting. The Commies will get us if we don't watch out! Clarence is a benevolent Fascist. There isn't a kinder man alive, and he hasn't an ounce of malice in his make-up, but he believes in authority. Fond as Clarence and I are of each other, I'm sure he'd rather see me dead at his feet than embracing anything that resembles a liberal cause. If Clarence became dictator, he would with great regret shoot most of the liberal senators, hang all labor leaders and exile anybody who objected.

Whole Duty Of Government
Clarence, like Alexander Hamilton before him, believes that the preservation of law and order is the whole duty of government. Radicals who defy the law and upset the orderly ways of life deserve no public protection. It's the government's job to create a political climate in which business will prosper and in which any man of merit may hope to become a millionaire some day.

These are not popular ideas any more. I can't imagine Clarence running for office or writing a best-seller. But this man can hold a barroom audience in the hollow of his oratorical hand. You'd be surprised how many doctors, lawyers, politicians and writers drop into his bar for a quick one, mainly to hear Clarence hold forth.

No, siree," says Clarence, "I don't subscribe to the common fallacy that we're living in a democracy. There's a certain chain-of-command which controls our personal lives. My boss, if he wants to, can send me to Siberia—by that I mean to the exile of unemployment which is worse than Siberia. The leader of my labor union can tell me when to work, when to quit and how much to earn. There's really no democracy, so why don't we stop pretending? Let's have an authoritarian state and be done with it."

Better Real And More Articulate
Clarence, although not formally educated, is better read and more articulate than most of the professional men whose cocktails he mixes. Somehow he's found time in his well-adjusted life to devour the great thick books which most of us buy and leave on the library shelf. In addition, he regularly reads every newspaper and magazine which comes to the large hotel where he works.

"Nothing in history or in common sense," says Clarence, "gives any hope that Mr. Acheson's foreign policy will succeed. We're not only exporting money, we're exporting isolationism. As soon as we rebuild the industries of Western Europe, those nations will become the neutrals in a war between the U. S. and Russia. Western Europe will do what the U. S. used to do—sell munitions to both sides.

"In the meanwhile, the money we send abroad isn't making us any capitalist friends. All those European countries are suffering from political schizophrenia. They can't make up their minds. Well, they need a strong man to make up their minds for them. Like Franco—like De Gaulle!"

Customers Get Uneasy
When Clarence starts invoking the name of dictators, his customers get uneasy. Next thing they know Clarence is likely to say something good about Hitler and Mussolini. Some of the customers, I suspect, have a sneaking admiration for the way these two erstwhile villains handled the Commies. But the war hasn't been over long enough to admit things like that.

Clarence, I'm thinking, is worth a column because he says many things that his more socially respectable customers would like to say—but aren't. Why not? Well, because it's still fashionable to believe that the human race spends its time yearning for something called democracy. Clarence believes otherwise. He's seen in and year out, a lot of people swarm up to his bar. The successful people yearn for wider opportunities in the pursuit of fame and fortune. The unsuccessful people yearn for security and a measure of dignity. This passion for democracy, says Clarence, is something that the politicians pressed up. ## Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

One of the troubles with President Truman is that Harry S. Truman is such a nice little guy.

If he came to my town in Connecticut and opened a haberdashery store, I don't think he'd ever go broke again.

I would buy all my shirts and BVDs from him and I'd make all my friends patronize his shop.

"So many people wonder just what it is that has made Truman so popular with the masses. It certainly can't be his wisdom and sagacity."

It is that he conducts the presidency like a small-town haberdashery.

He went broke years ago because he did not have a good enough stock of merchandise and because he had not yet acquired that hand-shaking talent, that folksy air that makes millions consider him a personal friend.

But now Harry Truman can shake your hand over the radio or on television and make you feel the squeeze.

For Pete's sake, don't consider this my endorsement of Truman as president. That is an entirely different story.

I am talking of the Truman of Independence, Mo., where he was Harry, the neighbor, to everybody. I am talking about Harry Truman who now plays a pretty darn good card of being neighbor to some forty million people.

And would you believe it? I think Harry Truman is really sincere about that neighborliness of his. I think he LIKES to be your neighbor and mine and every body's.

A couple of years ago I was in Washington as a delegate to the Sigma Delta Chi convention. Sigma Delta Chi is the national journalistic fraternity to which a lot of the country's newspapermen belong.

A number of us were invited to come over to the White House to meet the president.

We went into his office and he made a little speech. In that speech he expressed his disapproval of columnists, and he expressed it in no uncertain terms.

I was pretty sore at him. But when we were introduced individually and I shook hands with him, he just laughed about what he had said and made me feel that of course, he hadn't meant ME.

A few nights ago the annual Raymond Clapper Memorial Award for the best Washington reporting was presented to Jack Steele for his series of articles dealing with the five-per-centers.

These articles were largely responsible for the ensuing investigation and particularly for the questioning of Major General Harry H. Vaughn, the president's military aide.

Mr. Truman attended the dinner. He sat next to the man who had exposed his aide.

He shook hands with him and, with a big grin, said: "Congratulations, Jack. I like good reporting, no matter what it says."

That's the sort of thing the Republicans are up against.

You can criticize Harry Truman for many, many mistakes. You can tear his foreign and domestic policies wide open.

But it will be awfully hard to beat a man whom the majority of the voters say: "He's a swell little guy, ain't he?"

Asks Funds To Modernize American Navy

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(INS)—Chairman Vinson (D, Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee, today introduced legislation to "modernize" the Navy at a cost of one-half billion dollars.

The funds would be expended for the construction of new ships and the conversion of existing vessels.

Vinson said his program would take five years to complete.

In a statement accompanying his bill, he declared that the Navy's vessels and aircraft "are the ships and planes of a by-gone age."

The congressman stated that research in new naval weapons "shows that we must build some new types of ships."

He emphasized that Russia "is building and organizing a modern Navy" and added:

"We must look into the future and begin now to provide the new Naval instruments of national defense."

Vinson called for the construction of new vessels "of radical design" and the conversion of existing vessels to "new purposes" because of the development of jet-propelled airplanes, guided missiles, and modern submarines, and anti-submarine weapons.

Britain's nationalized railroads suffered a net deficit of $23,500,000 in 1948.

British Tailor Picks List Of Best-Dressers

LONDON, March 21.—(INS)—Ladies meet the best dressed men of the mid-century.

1. The Marquis of Milford Haven.
2. Prince Phillip of Edinburgh.
3. Earl Mountbatten of Burma.
4. Film star Robert Taylor.

These four gentlemen of fashion, in the opinion of sandy-haired Edward Watson, one of London's foremost master tailors, are the Beau Brummels of modern times.

"Englishmen," he declared at a dinner attended by 400 impeccably dressed London master tailors, "can still wear their clothes more naturally and nonchalantly than anyone and be the envy of the world."

Watson, incidentally, dresses the first two men on his list.

His three rules to attain the perfection of Prince Phillip's much-envied evening dress bow-ties:

"First you must buy the exact length double-ended tie. Get an expert to fit them on your collar, don't just ask for the size."

"Secondly, always wear a high collar with tails—two inches at least."

"Thirdly, never finger your bow once it is tied to your satisfaction—the nervous man always wrecks the 'site' of his tie."

Sex Education in the Schools

It's becoming increasingly difficult to find people who don't believe in sound sex education for children. Realizing how much unhappiness has been caused in the past by "a conspiracy of silence," parents of every sort of background agree that straightforward, matter-of-fact information is one important part of such education. The stark story is rapidly becoming extinct.

But there are real differences of opinion as to whom should be responsible. Some parents and some teachers believe that sex education should be a regular part of the school's program. Others are strongly opposed.

A point of view on which most people will agree was expressed in a panel discussion I led for the American Association of Social Hygiene recently. On the panel were a Jewish rabbi, a Protestant minister and a prominent Catholic layman, president of one of the church's lay organizations.

We agreed that in many families parents were not ready to do a good job because of ignorance or embarrassment. We also agreed that sex education was important, and ideally should be given in the home when the questions arise.

The main job of the school, then, should be that of helping parents prepare themselves to talk simply and naturally with their children. On occasion, perhaps, and always

Committee Says Truman Thwarts Will Of Congress

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(U.S.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 21.—The House Appropriations Committee accused President Truman today of unconstitutionally "thwarting the will of Congress" in refusing to permit 58 Air Force groups.

A committee report declared that at the present rate of military aircraft buying the Air Force would be reduced to 42 modern groups by 1956.

The statements were made as the committee submitted an omnibus money bill providing for a defense budget of $12,825,342,300—$225,793,700 less than the President requested.

Improved Appropriation
Mr. Truman last October impounded $735,000,000 appropriated by Congress to increase the Air Force from 48 to 58 groups. The committee's report said:

"This amounted to an item veto, a power not possessed by the President. Under article I, section 8 of the Constitution, Congress is given the responsibility of providing for the national defense."

"There is no warrant or justification for the thwarting of a major policy of Congress by the impounding of funds."

"If this principle should be accepted as correct, then Congress would be totally incapable of carrying out its constitutional mandate."

The committee accepted the President's recommendation of $1,350,000,000 for new Air Force planes, but warned:

"At the rate of aircraft procurement in the present bill, instead of having 48 modern groups in the United States Air Force in 1956, we would have 42 first line groups."

Downward Trend Not Justified
"World conditions do not indicate that such a downward trend is justified."

"It is the opinion of the committee that a re-study and revaluation of military strength projected into future years should be made."

The report also criticized Mr. Truman for establishing "the President's committee on religion and welfare in the armed services" without a specific appropriation.

The congressional group said this committee is spending $7,000 a month, that it should be abolished, and that its work should be done by military chaplain's organizations.

Appropriation requests of the military establishment itself were cut $203,000,000. The committee sliced $108,000,000 from the Army, $40,000,000 from the Air Force, $36,000,000 from the Navy and $15,000,000 from the defense department's separate fund.

Over $600,000 Paid In Wage Taxes In Year

Although only a preliminary check-up has occurred so far, Lewis A. McClung, receiver of earned income taxes for the city, today stated there has already been paid into the bureau $603,000 in wage and earned profit taxes.

This was the amount set by representatives of the local institute of government, Penn State college, who conducted a survey here.

However, due to several townships having imposed a wage tax last year, the city will be required to pay to the said townships amounts due them, but paid into the city by township people employed in the city.

Steal Wheels And Tires From Trailer

City police today were advised that someone jacked up a trailer at Robinson's garage, Butler avenue, and stole two wheels and tires, the tires alone being worth $150 each. In lieu of the stolen wheels and tires, the thieves left an old wheel and tire. The trailer is owned by Carl Lamey, Titusville, R. D. 3.

Boyd Named Rotary Head

New Wilmington Club Has Election

Dave Boyd was elected president of the New Wilmington Rotary club Monday evening at the club's regular weekly dinner meeting.

Other officers elected were: Wayne Caler, vice president; John McCandless, secretary; Thomas Ashcom, treasurer; and Carlton Lehman and Jerome Daugherty, directors. Both Caler and McCandless were re-elected.

Washbaugh Speaks
Grover Washbaugh spoke to the members of the club on basketball—basketball at Westminster college and basketball in general.

He told of the ruggedness of the sport, with practice sessions beginning early in October and scheduled running into March. He explained that Westminster carried a heavier than ordinary schedule this season because of the exceptional team.

He talked about the trip to Kansas City and said that he felt the NAIB tournament was one of the greatest tournaments in the country, with no other tournament offering such a cross-section of American basketball.

New Field House
The Westminster coach went on to say that the college will be forced to have a new field house within several years, that they could not continue to play important games under present conditions very much longer.

Mr. Washbaugh also added a few words of praise for the New Wilmington high school team that won the Tri-County Tournament last week.

Dr. Will Orr was made a member of the fellowship committee at the meeting.

Dr. Ernest E. Grice, a guest at the home of Dr. Orr, was special guest of the club at the meeting. Dr. Grice is secretary of the board of foreign missions for the United Presbyterian church.

Oliver Collins was in charge of the evening's program and President Ross Ellis conducted the meeting. Next week Norman Igo will tell about his recent trip to Latin America.

Naval Reserves

Budget Group At McGill-Highland P.T.A. Discussion

Budget of the New Castle school system was the topic of discussion at the joint meeting of the Highland-McGill Parent-Teacher Associations held on a recent evening at the McGill school.

The group was fortunate in having Joseph Hensley and Mrs. Elizabeth Kleckner as representatives of the budget committee and John Bechtol, business manager and secretary of the board. Mr. Hensley acted as leader of the discussion period.

James Cavill, president of the Highland unit, presided as chairman. He called upon Edwin O. Feass, who reported attending the organization meeting of the City Council of P.T.A. At this time, McGill voted to affiliate.

No Small Job

The board members stated, "No longer is the making and operating of the school budget a one-man job or a one-department job. The budget involves the participation of everyone connected with the school system. Its success depends in large measure on the sympathetic understanding of the people of the school district."

"The way in which the budget is made affects the school system in every part. It is the financial plan for the school system. It determines the amount and the quality of personnel and of materials; it likewise determines the phases of the educational program which are to be emphasized. The foundation of budget making should be, therefore, a statesmanlike consideration of the educational needs of the community."

"As the administrative officer of the Board of Education, the superintendent has the responsibility for recommending the school budget. The procedure of arriving at a recommended budget is important in a democratic school system."

Mr. Cavill then called upon Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of schools, who answered some questions of the group. Both Dr. Burton and Mr. Bechtol explained the plan of the board to bring an expert to New Castle for the purpose of taking a city wide census to determine where new schools are most needed in the city.

Policeman Cannot Be Tried Again At Beaver Falls

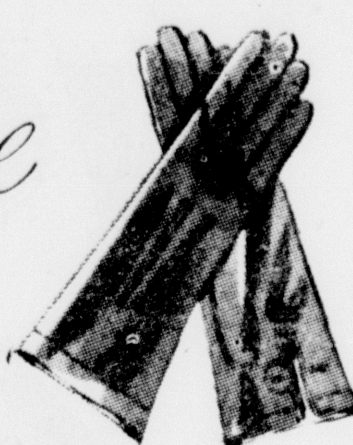

PITTSBURGH, March 11—(INS)—A ruling by the Pennsylvania supreme court in Pittsburgh yesterday held that a Beaver Falls, Pa., policeman cannot be tried on a charge of murder following his acquittal on a involuntary manslaughter charge.

The decision was handed down by the late Chief Justice George W. Maxey before he succumbed to a heart attack during the court session yesterday.

The charges followed the death of Sebastian Medaglia, Jr., of Beaver Falls last July. The policeman, Thomas E. Thatcher, was arrested in connection with the death but was later acquitted of a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Work Among Crippled Told

Creston C. Herold
Speaker At Rotary

Creston C. Herold, field worker for the Pennsylvania Association for Crippled Children and Adults was the speaker at Monday noon's meeting of the New Castle Rotary Club, when he told of the work the association is doing among the handicapped folks of Pennsylvania.

The association was fathered by Frank P. Allen, a Rotarian. Mr. Herold stated, and its work is furthered by the sale of Easter Seals, a supply of which has been distributed to many in Lawrence county.

The return from the sale in the county will be sent back here to the county association, which is of recent organization and will be devoted to work among the crippled persons of this county, Mr. Herold stated.

Two Summer Camps

Two summer camps are maintained by the Pennsylvania association, one, which was the pioneer, Camp Daddy Allen, being located at White Haven, Pa., and the other at Somerset, Pa., on beautiful forest land rented from the state. Each camp provides a summer vacation for 110 children, who are placed among others who are handicapped like themselves, and they are given special attention of specialists who teach them to help themselves. Wonderful progress is made by these children, who learn to overcome their handicaps.

The work is of special interest to local Rotarians, as one of their principal programs in the early days of the Rotary Club here was work among the crippled children and adults of this community, until the state took over a large portion of the program.

Swiss Think Reds Start New Purge

BERNE — (INS) — The unexpected absence from his post of the Soviet minister to Berne is causing speculation in Swiss diplomatic circles that the Soviet Union has started a purge of its foreign diplomatic missions.

Anatole Koulikov, who has headed the Soviet legation here since diplomatic relations were established three years ago, left on a routine mission to Moscow three months ago.

Swiss diplomatic circles point out that, contrary to protocol, the Swiss government has not yet been informed if he will return or be replaced.

OIL RUNS UNCAPPED

TYLER, TEXAS—Two attempts have been made to cap this runaway oil without success. Highway patrol officers have blocked off a mile-square area to prevent onlookers from accidentally causing a spark which could cause an explosion. Experts have been called in and special machinery put into action with no avail.

Organizes 'Union' For Happy Kiddies

PARIS—(INS)—Alexis Danan, a bustling, theatrical-minded journalist from the South of France, wants children to be happy so he has formed the "Vigilant Committee for the Protection of Unhappy Children."

An out-of-season Santa Claus with a dash of Ed Wynn's smile, Danan led some 1,500 "happy children" in a "manifestation" before the Ministry of Justice. Their aim was to secure better conditions for French youngsters whom they believe are mistreated by their parents.

Some time ago, Danan "informally" adopted several children without first obtaining court permission or the permission of the parents. Danan claimed the latter were "unworthy" of the name. But a court sided with the irate parents, returned the children to them and slapped a fine on Danan. Danan and an aroused committee—all "happy children"—Pied Pipered their way through police lines into the very heart of the Ministry of Justice. There they handed 30,000 postal cards to the Minister's assistant and asked the Government to enforce laws to "protect the Nation's unhappy children."

The official thanked them for their interest and said he would take their petition under advisement. Then he offered the "happy children" a box of candy.

ARGENTINE RAILS
BUENOS AIRES—(INS)—Argentina's government-owned railways have been "socialized" by a decree signed by President Peron. The railways will be managed by a commission of nine appointed by the president, including at least one delegate from the railroad labor unions. Of the net profits of each line, 25 per cent will be divided among labor and employees.

Monarch Rides Paris Subway

PARIS—(INS)—A tall, swarthy, well-dressed young man boarded a crowded Paris subway train recently at the rush hour, allowed himself to be jostled about by his fellow-passengers and got out after a few stops.

"Paris hasn't changed much," sighed His Majesty Mohammed Zahir Khan, king of Afghanistan, to the panting bodyguard who struggled free of the crowd to follow on the heels of the royal straphanger. "I just wanted to see if the subway was the same as ever."

For the 36-year-old monarch the brief subway ride was a sentimental journey to the scene of his youth. From 1925 to 1929 he was a day student at a school in the Paris suburbs and the subway was his sole means of transportation. Now he usually rides in a sleek black Daimler. He had himself driven out to his old school recently and was escorted around the building by the headmaster, who remembered him as a good—if sometimes noisy—student known only as "Monsieur Zahir".

NO COPIER

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — Will Rogers, Jr., son of the late humorist, will never again try to portray his father on stage, screen or radio. Ten hours before he was scheduled to appear on radio's Hallmark Playhouse in the role of his father, he decided he "could not do justice to what Dad had to say and his way of saying it". He vowed he'd never undertake that assignment. Actor Ted Decorsia stepped in at the last moment to take over the Rogers part and Will, Jr., confined his role to making a brief talk over the air about his father.

BOOK READERS

It is estimated that Americans read 400 million books a year.

Rich Maharajah Cries Poverty

LONDON—(INS)—The 26-year-old Maharajah of Jodhpur, leaving for India, asked reporters not to describe him as one of the wealthiest men in the world.

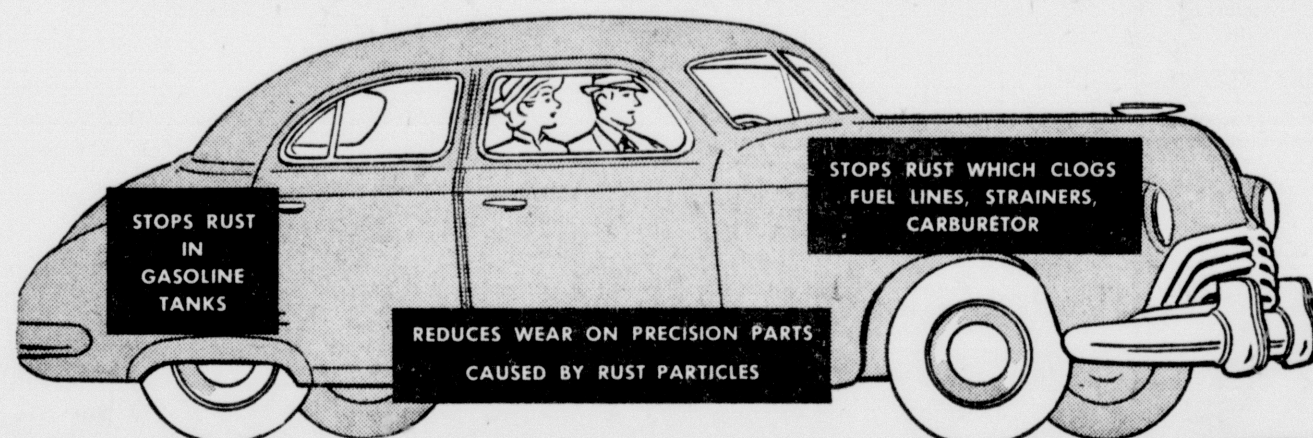

The family owns six or seven palaces and a few smaller residences," he said, "but they are more of a liability than an asset nowadays".

State revenue of Jodhpur is $4,200 a year. Now that it has acceded to the Dominion of India, revenues are no longer drawn by the Maharajah. He is, however, entitled to a state pension not exceeding $210,000 a year, in addition to the income from his personal fortune.

Court House

Soldier Graves
Care Neglected

Many Almost Covered
With Weeds And Grass

Many graves of veterans in this county are overgrown with weeds and grass and need attention badly, Harvey G. Bintrim, chief custodian of the court house said today.

Mr. Bintrim has visited every cemetery in the county and finds that some of the smaller cemeteries in the rural communities are in bad shape.

With Memorial Day not too far away, he is hoping that the cemetery owners or relatives of the deceased veterans will do something about putting the graves in shape.

Pouring New Power Plant Foundation

Workmen pouring a section of the base slab of the foundation for an addition to the Pennsylvania Power company's power plant at West Pittsburg. The addition will house a new 85,000-kilowatt generating unit which will almost double the present capacity of the plant. In the picture, the concrete is being poured down the chutes and the men are distributing it. The hose is a vibrator which is put into the wet concrete to shake it and eliminate possible air holes.

A hole equivalent to basements for about 250 homes has been dug at the New Castle Power plant at West Pittsburg from which 40,000 cubic yards of earth has been removed. The excavation will 'house' the foundation and sub-structure for the addition to the plant at West Pittsburg, which will house the new 88,000-kilowatt unit, part of the Pennsylvania Power company's big improvement in this district.

Pouring the base slab of the foundation is a huge task and involves months of preparation. In January, the first section was poured in the west section of the plant foundation. This slab is five feet thick and heavily reinforced with steel bars one inch in diameter.

The first pour or section covered a little over one-fifth of the total and is 84 feet long and 44 1/2 feet wide and contains about 896 cubic yards of concrete.

The concrete used at the plant is all mixed on the job by an elaborate mixing plant at the rate of about 60 cubic yards an hour. This mixing station consists of two revolving drums and mixers above which are located the sand and limestone bins.

Each batch is accurately weighed, the water measured and dumped into the drum where it is mixed for 1 1/2 minutes before being deposited in trucks which convey it to the chutes leading to the base slab.

The total weight of the first piece of concrete is 3,750,000 pounds, consisting of 1 1/2 million pounds of sand and the same amount of limestone. About 200,000 pounds of cement and 400,000 pounds of water were required to obtain the proper mixture and consistency. The weight of the rods or reinforcing steel was about 150,000 pounds.

The second section poured was 812 cubic yards and weighed about 3,410,000 pounds. The last two pours will be larger, one of 1,172 yards and the final pour of 1,207 cubic yards, making a total of 4,087 cubic yards of concrete weighing approximately 17,225,000 pounds, or 8,612 tons.

Creator Of Tarzan
Taken By Death

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—(INS)—Edgar Rice Burroughs, creator of the legendary jungle character Tarzan, is dead.

The 74-year-old author died while reading the Sunday newspaper in bed in his Encino home yesterday morning, he died almost instantly.

Burroughs had been under treatment for a heart ailment for three months. His physician, Dr. Herman Seal, at the house at the time on a regular morning call, attributed death to the heart condition and to arterio-sclerosis.

BUY GOOD SEEDS

It is false economy to buy cheap vegetable seed, according to James O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Good seed is free from dirt, weed seeds, and insect and disease damage. It is bright, plump, true to name or variety type, and a high percentage of it will grow.

Folks Of Fame

Viola Dane was a popular little star of motion pictures' silent days. Born in Brooklyn in 1898, she was on the legitimate stage for 11 years. She appeared in "Rip Van Winkle," "Little Rebel," "Poor Little Rich Girl." Her first movie role was in "The Stinging," followed by "Blackmail," "A Criminale Romance," "Love in the Dark," "Five Dollar Baby," etc. Merton of the Movies was another in which she starred, and the last of which we have record were "Naughty Nanette," "Lure of the Night Club," "Ice Flood," "That Certain Thing," "One Splendid Hour" and "Two Sisters." She was tiny—not quite five feet tall, with brown hair and green eyes.

Hernando de Soto, Spanish captain and explorer, was born circa 1496 at Jerez de los Caballeros. In 1528 he explored the coast of Guatemala and Lucania, and in 1532 led 300 volunteers to reinforce the conquistador Pizarro in Peru. He played a prominent part in the conquest of the Inca empire, then returned to Spain. Excited by reports of wealth in Florida, he gathered a force of 620 foot and 123 horse and four armed ships and sailed for Florida. He searched for gold for nearly four years, probably passed north into what is now Georgia, then south to near Mobile, and finally northwest to the Mississippi river, which he reached in 1541. The next winter he spent in what is now Arkansas and Louisiana, and as he was returning along the Mississippi he died in 1542.

CHEAP HOUSE

COLORADO SPRINGS—(INS)—A Colorado Springs physician found in 1925 an easy way to cut building costs to rock bottom. Dr. Charles H. Evans, who once practiced medicine in Colorado Springs wanted to build a house for his prospective bride. So at No. 2 Ridge Road, near one of the entrances to the Garden of the Gods he built his unusual house. Much of one wall of the residence is composed of a giant boulder which protrudes into one side of the master bedroom. The house was simply built around the huge rock.

Newsweek

Newsweek
looks at Life Insurance

RECENTLY members of Newsweek magazine's editorial staff interviewed Mr. Leroy A. Lincoln, President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, on the subject of Life insurance.

The tremendous role that Life insurance plays in the national economy, and the interesting institutional material developed during the discussion, are so important that a motion picture has been made of this interview. This film will be given wide distribution in line with Metropolitan's "Open Book" policy.

Naturally, in reply to questions from the editors, Mr. Lincoln made many references to Metropolitan's achievements in 1949. In fact, the interview developed the information that is customarily included in the Annual Report to Policyholders. Accordingly, a complete transcript has been printed as the Company's Report for 1949. Here are some of the highlights of that report:

"Metropolitan...paid about $769,000,000 (to beneficiaries and policyholders last year) ...and I might add further that... (this includes) $502,000,000 to living policyholders."

"For our 33,000,000 policyholders in the United States and Canada, the total Life insurance in force in the Metropolitan at the end of last year was almost $42,000,000,000—an increase of 4 percent over the preceding year."

"Metropolitan's assets totaled $9,700,000,000, an increase of about 6 percent over the figure for 1948."

"Through the combined efforts of the many health organizations, the average expectation of life at birth has improved 18 years since 1900. At that time it was about 49 years—while right now it is about 67."

"Expenses for the Life insurance companies have gone up the same as for everybody else. For example, in the Metropolitan last year they increased about 4 percent ... insurance in force in Metropolitan has increased about 80 percent since 1939, whereas operating expenses have increased only 71 percent."

"In 1949, Metropolitan... paid $164,000,000 in dividends to policyholders—the largest such amount in the Company's history. Dividends payable to policyholders in 1950 will be somewhat larger in the aggregate than 1949."

"Dividends would be substantially higher were it not for the low interest returns which have prevailed throughout the United States and Canada. For example, last year the net interest earned on Metropolitan assets was 3.07 percent, compared with 3.03 in 1948, and with 5.18 in 1929."

Metropolitan's Annual Report to Policyholders for 1949 will be sent to anyone on request. In addition, copies of the film may be borrowed for showing by local business, civic, or other groups in which Metropolitan policyholders are interested.

Ozark Cave As Refuge?

NEW YORK, March 21.—There seems to be a universal desire on a better "ole on the part of all of us H—(for hapless)—creatures in this H-bomb age.

Some people seem to feel this better "ole has materialized in the Ozarks where a Mr. Lester Dill of Stanton, Mo., and his New York press agents hope, with a million dollar loan from Uncle Sam, to equip Mr. Dill's 26-mile long Ozark cave as a refuge.

However, I have just sent off my formal regrets to Mr. Dill and his public relations experts, on the ground that I am more skait of H-music than H-bombs. In my brave lexicon, any fate, including an H-bomb, is preferable to a hill-billy band. And I cannot picture a genuine Ozark retreat without its fiddlers three and a do-see-do.

So I ain't a goin' thataway. I'm a goin' to head for New Hampshire and a friend up there name of James F. O'Neil.

Frightening Lot of Facts

We civilians hear a frightening lot of facts and fiction about war, but precious little about atomic defense. I had to go all the way to New Hampshire to find out that my government cared. But Uncle Sam does care about his chillions, and slowly he is beginning to move in the matter of civilian defense.

And that is where Mr. O'Neil, an old newspaper man himself, comes into the picture. He has been chief of police of Manchester, N. H., for 16 years.

Mr. O'Neil, a veteran of both World War I and II, was national commander of the American Legion in 1948. Now he has just been appointed director of civilian defense for New Hampshire. A

O'Neil expects to attend a New England meeting called to consider the whole problem of civilian defense in that area.

Portable Light Plants

He is already trying to locate all the portable lighting plants, such as those used by carnivals and tent shows, in New Hampshire. They will be invaluable if war should knock out the chief power plants in that area.

The traffic jam that would glut the highways of New England if bombs were to fall in its big industrial centers is one of the biggest problems that Mr. O'Neil and other civilian defense leaders must attempt to solve.

Already, Mr. O'Neil is taking a census of all trucking firms, big and little, in New Hampshire.

"We must take a realistic view," he said. "It is conceivable that our air fields would be destroyed and our rail system knocked out. Then trucks would be invaluable."

GLUE LOOSE JOINTS IN FURNITURE NOW

Gluing loosened joints of chairs or other furniture is one job which may be done now. In many cases this minor repair job may be done at home.

The first step in gluing is to carefully separate the parts of the joint. When necessary to force these apart, put a heavy pad or block of wood under the hammer or pry to protect the wood. With a thin knife, or a one-edge razor blade, clean off the old glue. Do not use sandpaper, for the wood must not be reduced in size or the pores closed.

To keep out all moisture and to hold together better all parts to be glued must fit as nearly perfect as possible. If some parts are loose, fit a piece of firm muslin over the end of a dowel pin or rung of the chair. Cover both parts of the joint and the muslin with glue.

You will need a clamping device to hold a joint together as the glue dries. The device may be a bar clamp, a hand screw, or a tourniquet. The tourniquet may be made of two strands of heavy cord with a stick between the strands of heavy cord with a stick between the strands so they may be twisted to give the proper amount of pressure. Have your clamping device ready before applying any glue.

Apply this glue with a paddle or stick to all surfaces of the joint. Put together and apply the clamp. Protect the wood with pads. Remove any surplus glue at once, then allow glued parts to dry thoroughly. The length of time for drying varies, depending on whether you used a liquid glue which you soaked over-night, then heated, and applied it hot. This hot glue will dry quicker than the liquid glue.

Young Girl Slays Her Twin Sister

FRESNO, Calif., March 21. — (INS)—Authorities planned to file murder charges today against a 14-year-old Fresno school girl who insisted she was "not sorry" she shot to death the twin sister who constantly aggravated her since the sixth grade.

Officers said Alice Richard admitted to them she fired a .22 caliber rifle bullet into the head of her sister Sally and added, "I'd kill Sally again if I had the chance."

The slender, blue-eyed high school sophomore described her twin sister as "nosy and stupid."

The grief-stricken parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richard, said they had never noticed anything out of the ordinary between the girls. The Richards have six other children.

Urges Self Disciplining Of Hollywood Colony

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 21. — Sen. Edwin Johnson (D-Colo.) invited the Hollywood movie colony today to draw up its own plan for self-discipline in order to avoid government action.

The senator, who startled the motion picture industry last week with a blast at its morals, announced he would hold hearings in mid-April at which it could present the plan.

Johnson has proposed that the government license motion picture actors and producers in order to weed out those convicted of morals charges or guilty of acts "constituting the essential elements of a crime involving moral turpitude."

Wants Adequate Steps

The Senate commerce chairman told International News Service: "I would be very pleased if Hollywood would take steps to put its own house in order. But I'm not going to call off my hearings until I know what the steps are adequate.

"I suggest that the movie people bring any self-discipline plan they devise to Washington and tell us about it at the hearings."

Johnson has indicated that Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association, would be the lead-off witness at his hearings and that Hollywood stars also would appear.

The furor over filmland morals started when Johnson delivered an explosive Senate speech on the Ingrid Bergman-Roberto Rossellini affair.

Special Opportunity For Anti-Aircraft Veterans In Army

City Circus Lot Graded

Other News Of Council Session

City council on Monday voted to pay A. Graziano $2,050 for grading the circus lot, now completed, after he pays to the city $1,500 for land which he bought from the city. The affected areas are in Cascade street district. The city has $500 coming from another land purchased, which, in view of the return for land bought, will pay for the grading. It is likely that several circuses will appear here this summer.

OBEY HIRING RULE

Because all appointments, temporary or regular, now are illegal, unless decided upon by council in formal session, Joseph F. Medure today sponsored the reappointment of John Zoltani to the parks improvement crew, headed by City Forester Owen Fox.

COMPLETES AUDIT

Charles Kennedy, city controller, advised council he has completed an audit of the 1949 City Recreation commission accounts.

DETERMINES GUARD POLICY

Members of the National Guard will be permitted leaves of absence to attend campment, providing such will not interfere with the welfare of the city.

This was decided by council after they discussed the communication of Col. George F. Mitchell, 229th FA, who requested the city to state its policy regarding leaves.

Mayor John F. Haven and Safety Director Richard I. Davis pointed out that appropriations were made only for so many employees, and if men were allowed to leave, they could not be replaced without paying substitutes and funds would be lacking. They also pointed out that several men in different departments might be off at the same time.

Finally Streets Director E. Gene Schweinsberg fathered a motion directing leaves be granted, providing such did not interfere with the welfare of the city. The head of the department will be the judge.

Councilman Joseph F. Medure seconded the motion and it was carried unanimously.

RALPH AVENUE PROJECT

Council received a report from City Engineer John Z. Street that a majority of property-owners in Ralph avenue between Morris and Moravia streets, had signed for grading and paving. He was directed to ascertain the number of South New Castle borough property-owners residing along Ralph avenue who were in favor of the project and would pay for it. Mayor John F. Haven said he is in favor of the proposed improvement, hence Streets Director E. Gene Schweinsberg was directed to investigate the borough phase of the proposition.

HEAR APPEALS MARCH 30

Council will convene as a board of revision in city hall March 30 to hear appeals against assessments made on new property erected since the triennial assessments were made.

AUTHORIZE AGREEMENT

Solons authorized an agreement to be made with the school board whereby earned income tax collector Lewis McClung will pay direct to the school treasurer an amount of 1949 earned income, to which they are entitled (3 1/2 mills), after the townships have received their share. The school board agrees, according to the protocol, to pay one-half of the salaries and operating expenses of the earned income tax bureau.

ASCERTAIN JURISDICTION

Council directed City Engineer John Z. Street to ascertain where the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities commission and the city ends, relative to their order concerning B. & O. R. R. grade crossings in Cascade street and Butler avenue.

PREPARE IMPROVEMENT PLANS

City Engineer John Z. Street was authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the grading and installation of a sanitary sewer in Gretchen and Wooley avenues. Some time in the future, Warren avenue will be put thru to Wooley avenue between Syling and Vogan streets, council indicated. Bids for the grading and sewer will be asked for by the city clerk.

AUDLEY AVENUE PROJECT

Plans and specifications will be prepared for the grading of Audley avenue, between Elizabeth street and Hillcrest avenue. The property is owned by three parties, all of whom have asked for the improvement. The motion was made by Director E. Gene Schweinsberg.

INSURANCE CONTRACT

Council, by motion of Director Joseph Medure, seconded by Director Richard I. Davis, gave authority for an insurance contract to be made between the city and McBride & Shannon company. The city building and contents are to be insured for $480,000. The company will divide the insurance between several other insurance agents.

Highway Hearings Stated At Capital

HARRISBURG, March 21—(INS)—The Highway Planning Commission will hold a hearing at Harrisburg today and Wednesday in line with its study of Pennsylvania's highway needs.

Statewide groups will be presented along with organizations from central Pennsylvania. Included among counties to be represented will be Juniata, Mifflin, Lancaster, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Perry, Snyder, Lebanon, York, and Adams.

The hearing is the third in a series being held by the commission in various parts of the state.

Other hearings will be held at Erie, Wilkes-Barre, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Hearings were held at Wilkes-Barre and Erie last month, with urban and rural groups clashing over the question of allocations, the rural groups contending that rural roads were neglected and receiving insufficient state aid.

The commission will formulate recommendations for a long-range highway program to be submitted to the general assembly in 1951.

Peanut Exports Increase In U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 21—(INS)—The U. S. exported more than 40 per cent of the total amount of peanuts produced last year.

The office of Foreign Agricultural Relations said exports in 1949 amounted to 380,000 tons. That compared with 350,000 tons the year before and the prewar average of only 1,000 tons.

Of the total 1949 shipments, 174,648 tons were in terms of shelled peanuts, 4,272 tons of unshelled peanuts and 34,229 tons of oil.

More than 90 per cent of the oil exports and more than 80 per cent of the peanuts were sent to Europe.

School Tries System Of One Subject Weekly

OSCEOLA MILLS, Pa., March 21—(INS)—Osceola Mills school students Monday tried a new system of curriculum with approval of the faculty and school board.

During the next six weeks, students will use a concentration system. Instead of studying six subjects, they will study one subject for a week, take an exam, then proceed to another subject. Last week, about 50 rebellious scholars staged a one-day strike to protest the new system which is used at several prep schools.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, March 21—(INS)—Ladies who've saved up money for a rainy day can now spend up to $70 of it on a waterproof wrap called the "bridal raincoat."

The satiny white slicker with checkered effects woven of gold thread was introduced by Lawrence of London.

It was tagged at $69.95—cheap at twice the price since it shields a bride against a stormy honeymoon.

Lawrence, most high-styled and high-priced of rainwear designers, shows also: puckered nylon raincoats that dry in half an hour; raffia coats that shed water like ducks' backs; and linen models that look like sunny weather coats.

The designer's motto is: "If a lady's going to be caught in a shower, it may as well be a shower of compliments!"

J. J. Klish Family Arrives At Japan

First Lieutenant John J. Klish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Klish of Prospect street, New Castle, greeted his wife and their three children, as they arrived in Yokohama aboard the United States Army Transport "HASE."

Lieutenant Klish first entered the Army in 1936, and completed his basic training in Hawaii. During World War II, he served with the 503rd Parachute Infantry in England, Africa, Sicily and Italy. He was commissioned a second lieutenant, and awarded the Bronze Star and Purple Heart. He is now an instructor with the Leadership School Division of the Eta Jima school command.

Long Sentences Are Given Holdup Pair

PHILADELPHIA, March 21—(INS)—William Bakey, 42, of (46 N. Keystone Av.) Upper Darby, Pa., and Augustus Farley, 45, of Philadelphia, were sentenced to 20 to 40 years in prison for the hold-up of an Abbotts' dairy branch last Dec. 20.

Bakey and Farley were convicted late Saturday night, but sentence was deferred pending motions for a new trial. Today, Judge Eugene V. Alessandrini denied two defense counsel motions for re-hearings.

It was testified that Bakey had used Farley's apartment to hide the loot.

Pygmies in Africa were discovered in 1870 by G. A. Schweinfurth.

How to take the Work out of Housework

Scorch something a little? Don't worry. Dampen the spots well, and leave garment beneath ultraviolet rays of a sun lamp for 10 minutes. Works like magic on white things! Be careful with color.

(You can bleach a scorch, and take a sun bath, too, for a penny's worth of electricity!)

Clogged sink drains are a nuisance—expensive, too. Try prevention. Run hot water down the drain after rinsing greasy dishes and pans—and a couple of times during the week, just for safety's sake.

(For a few cents a day, you can have gallons of hot water with an electric water heater!)

Use the upholstery attachment of your vacuum cleaner to remove dust from radiators and registers, back of your range and other hard-to-get-at places. Good for books and corners of drawers, too.

(Did you know you can clean six large rugs with one penny's worth of electricity?)

Sew an 8" strip of thin white cloth (hemmed or even scalloped at the edge) along upper end of quilts or comforters. Saves wear—and strip can easily be removed and washed.

(It costs only 1/5th of a cent for the electricity to run your sewing machine an hour!)

It's soon time to store your electric blanket. Put it away in the box it came in, if possible—or one like it. Store in cool, dark place. But never put it away warm, of course!

(So comfortable on cold nights—so warm and light—and costs about 1/3c an hour to use!)

Yes, eggs will keep fresher in the crisper of your refrigerator—or in an open dish or container at the bottom of the food storage compartment.

(Costs about 5c for the electricity that refrigerates your food for a week end.)

Give your radio breathing space—at least two inches from the back of the radio to the wall. Radios overheat unless they have free circulation of air.

(You can have a full evening of radio entertainment for a penny's worth of electricity!)

Clean toasters work better—and longer, too. Never place in water, or shake violently. Clean out crumbs with a soft brush. Disconnect before cleaning, of course!

(One cent's worth of electricity will toast 36 slices of bread, if your family's that hungry!)

Faces Charge Of Shooting Her Twin Sister

FRESNO, Cal., March 21.—(INS)—Authorities planned a psychiatric examination today for 14-year-old Alice Richard to determine what caused her to kill her twin sister Sally in Fresno Sunday. Alice shrugged off a formal murder charge with a flippancy smile yesterday and stuck to her story that she shot Sally in her bed with a .22 caliber rifle because she hated her "since the sixth grade."

Alice was turned over to the juvenile authority after her arraignment.

Examination Sought

The psychiatric examination was sought by Assistant District Attorney Dan B. Eymann as well as by the girl's parents. Eymann said: "Ordinarily twins are very close. But I have heard that psychologically sometimes there is a break between twins—the direct opposite of the usual close relations and affection between twins."

Thus far authorities have been unable to peer beyond the "mental curtain" that causes Alice to say she is "glad" she killed her more popular sister and that she hated her for four years.

Eymann said that because of her age, Alice will not face a death penalty if she is convicted. He said: "She told me she never had such a good night's sleep in years as she had in jail the first night. She appeared happy as a lark and seemed as if she was very relieved—as if some terrific problem that had been weighing her down had been solved."

The college moguls are far too busy bickering about the "insanity code" to pay much attention to anything else—even a potential revenue reducer like video.

To File Exceptions To Court Tax Ruling

PITTSBURGH, March 21.—(INS)—Solicitors for three taxing bodies indicated today they will file exceptions to a ruling by a common pleas court jurist which forbids levying of taxes on any part of the Salvation Army's Evangeline residence in Pittsburgh.

Judge Sara M. Soffel ruled the "entire building is used for the benevolent and charitable purposes for which the Salvation Army was incorporated."

Since 1937 the city of Pittsburgh and the school board had levied real estate taxes on one-half of the $900,000 valuation. Allegheny county had levied its taxes on the nine-story structure since 1942. In her 38-page opinion yesterday

Judge Soffel noted the residence is operated at a deficit each year and is not operated for commercial purposes or profit. The Salvation Army had refused to pay any taxes on the structure and had asked the court to declare the entire building tax free.

TO HONOR PROFESSOR

PITTSBURGH, March 21.—(INS)—Carnegie Tech's first faculty member will be honored with a dinner Thursday in Pittsburgh to celebrate his 75th birthday.

Friends, associates and former students of Professor Emeritus Willibald Trinks have arranged the affair for the German-born engineering teacher who organized the mechanical engineering department in 1905 and served as its head for 38 years.

The rose-growing industry in the United States dates from 1870.

Kiwanis Club Hears Fireman

New Wilmington Team To Be Honored

Lt. L. W. Campbell, of Fire Station House No. Five in the South Side of New Castle, was principal speaker at the regular weekly dinner meeting of the New Wilmington Kiwanis club Monday evening.

Lt. Campbell stressed the fact that fire prevention begins in the home and that carelessness is the main cause of most fires. He listed the three most common causes of fires.

1. Matches, smoking.
2. Defective chimneys and stoves.
3. Misuse of cleaning fluids and electricity.

He said that the average person does things backwards in time of fire and waits until things are too far gone before calling the fire department. Call the fire department first, don't wait, Lt. Campbell stressed.

He also listed two important don'ts. Don't keep combustible trash and rubbish in the basement and don't use pennies for fuses.

To Honor Team

It was announced at the meeting that plans are nearly complete for the community dinner honoring the New Wilmington high school basketball team.

The Boys and Girls committee under the chairmanship of George McCurdy, has yet to make final arrangements with the speaker before naming the date. The date will be made public within the next few days, it is announced.

The TB mobile unit from Mercer county will be brought to New Wilmington by the club on Friday, April 14. It will be located on Market street across from the bank during the day and evening.

Guests of the club at the meeting were Miss Bobbie Francis and H. N. "Bud" Anderson. Miss Francis is director of the play "Aunt Sissy," which will be shown Thursday and Friday of this week by the New Wilmington American Legion. Mr. Anderson is president of the New Wilmington volunteer fire department.

Next week the club will meet in a joint meeting with the West Middlesex Kiwanis club at West Middlesex on Tuesday evening. The group will meet in front of the Press shop at six o'clock to leave for the meeting.

A director's meeting will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 at the home of president Howard Rodgers.

Dr. Sander Under Rule Of Silence

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 21 (INS)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander was placed under a rule of silence by his own attorneys today amid indications that new troubles may be brewing for the physician, recently acquitted of the "mercy-killing" of a cancer patient.

A fellow-doctor filed charges with the Hillsboro County Medical society against the Candia physician and two Catholic hospitals banned him from practicing within their walls.

Dr. George L. Bastien, Jr., secretary of the Sacred Heart hospital, said the ban against Dr. Sander was "forever" and Dr. Adolphe J. Provost of the Notre Dame hospital said the doctor was barred "permanently."

About 18 billion packs of cigarettes were produced in the United States in 1946.

Charges Lewis Used Secret Strike Signal

CANTON, Ill., March 21—(INS)—The Canton, Ill., miner who charges John L. Lewis used secret signals to prolong the recent coal strike, said today he "expects violence soon" against himself and his wife and 4-year-old daughter.

Lloyd Sidener, ousted president of UMW Local 7455 said a car driven by a UMW official nearly smashed into his auto yesterday, and he "didn't doubt a bit" that it was a deliberate attempt to ram him.

Canton police said they had no record of the incident and that Sidener had not asked them for protection.

The miner charged the UMW fined him $50,000, plus $25 for every day he worked, after he attempted to go back to the pits during the strike. Union officials asserted he was fined for trying to lead a rebel movement within the local.

Sidener said he has offered his services to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The FBI is studying his claim that Lewis passed a code message, "the whistle blew one," through UMW ranks to nullify his telegrams ordering the men back to work in compliance with a court order Feb. 11.

He said he tried to lead more than 100 miners back to the pits a few days later but was prevented by union pickets.

PITTSBURGH, March 21—(INS)—Only Mayor David L. Lawrence's signature was needed today to make effective an ordinance which prohibits police and other designated employees of the Department of Public Safety to hold either political or public office.

Violations of the ordinance, as passed by Pittsburgh's city council yesterday, "constitute grounds for dismissal."

Affected employees, however, will be permitted to serve until their terms expire.

New Austerity Season For British Debs

By FRED DOERFLINGER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON—(INS)—Britain's 1950 crop of debutantes were doomed to an "austerity" season with the official announcement that King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will give three afternoon presentation parties this year.

The parties at Buckingham Palace on May 4, May 10 and May 11 will again be post-war substitutes for the old evening courts.

Privileges
There is no indication that the state pageantry and glory of yesterday will return in the near future.

But despite the absence of pomp and ceremony at the current presentation parties the honor of being presented is still tremendously sought after.

It is said to put a cachet of social respectability on the lucky woman and it gives her certain definite privileges, such as the right to use the royal enclosure at Ascot.

Nevertheless, there is nothing really "exclusive" about being presented. There were some 700 presentations at each of the four annual Courts before the war and today it is not unusual for guests to number 3,000 at a presentation party.

Nor is there any bar or rank or birth. Virtually anyone who has not been concerned in a divorce case can be presented.

This coming season's crop of "gay young things" with their sponsors and several thousand other guests, will view a suite of state rooms on the first floor of Buckingham Palace and take "austerity" tea on the spacious lawns outside.

Informal Meeting
Few will actually meet the King and Queen. Today attendance at a presentation party is considered "equivalent to being presented."

Although members of the Royal Family will circulate "informally" among their guests for a time at each of the three afternoon parties, only a handful will in fact be presented and a further small group will be lucky enough to come within bobbing distance of Their Majesties.

Since the end of World War II informal presentation parties have taken the place of evening Courts and it was only in the 1948 season (after somewhat shabby state rooms neglected during the war were renovated) that guests at these parties were allowed inside the official London residence of the King and Queen.

The cessation of Courts saves the deb's parents the cost of a formal court gown, Prince of Wales feathers, veiling and other accessories once necessary. Afternoon dresses are now the order of attire. The fabulous gown, jewels and flowers are now only tales handed down from mother to daughter.

CHURCH WEDDING

"Please give me the following information concerning my wedding which will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in church: (1) On which side of her father should the bride walk up the aisle? (2) After the father has taken the bride up the aisle should he then sit down? If so, what is his correct place? (3) With whom does the bride leave her home to go to church? (4) With whom does the bride's mother leave? (5) When should the best man give the clergyman his fee? (6) Must the bride throw her bouquet? I should like to keep mine for having my picture taken."

Answer: (1) On her father's right side (2) Yes, unless the question "Who giveth this woman to be married?" is a part of the ceremony, in which event the bride's father should remain standing behind her until he replies "I do." He then takes his place at the end of the first pew beside his wife.

(3) With her father only and they arrive last in the procession.

(4) She should go either alone or she may take some of the attendants with her; but she must take into consideration that her husband will return with her from the church.

(5) It is customary for the bride to throw her bouquet to her attendants and other single women guests gathered at the foot of the stairs as she ascends to change from her wedding to traveling clothes. By that time, she has had her picture taken and has no further use for her bouquet.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

EUGENE JUICE

EUGENE Ore.—(INS)—Eugene pays $1.80 for 100 kilowatt hours of electricity, or less than one-half a national average of $3.86. Even so, Eugene light bulbs are about a third higher than the average because Eugeneans use more than three times as much "juice". About three-fourths of the householders cook and heat water with electricity.

Two Erie Youths On Trial For Murder In Buffalo Court

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21.—(INS)—The trial of two Erie youths accused of slaying a prominent Buffalo commercial photographer continued today.

The defendants—Charles Nelis Ploss, 20, and Robert Leslie Pohl, 17—have been charged with the first degree murder in the January slaying of Ben H. Swan.

Both youths were represented by court-assigned counsel as the selection of the jury began yesterday.

Swan was shot to death when he surprised a burglar in the act of looting his fashionable home in nearby Tonawanda.

The state alleges that Ploss fired the fatal shot.

The victim's wife and married daughter also were wounded in the exchange of shots by the intruder and Swan. They are now recovering from their wounds.

District Attorney Gordon Steele declared that the state will seek the death penalty for both defendants.

TRULY CHAMPS?

Bradley Braves earned their way into the NCAA Tournament last night with a win over Kansas. The disappointed lads from Peroria, who lost to CCNY in the National Invitation may now win the opportunity to meet the Beavers from Gotham in another New York play-off.

The selections for the Kansas City portion of the NCAA have not drawn for positions yet but the Bradley quint is still one of the best in the country and can earn a return game if the National team from New York can get by Ohio State and the winner of the Ohio Cross-North Carolina State fracas.

It has been our contention that the team that blows hot toward the end of the season or for a period of three to four days is not necessarily the best team. There is little doubt but that City College was the best club in the NIT during last week but another clash more than a week later with a good club such as Bradley should be an acid test of just how good the big town boys really are.

Throughout tournament play City College also had the home-floor advantage, which according to theory is worth six to nine points per game. City College had played between 13 and 15 games in The Gardens, while Duquesne had played only two before its battle with the champs and Bradley was playing its fourth.

LOCAL LOCALS
New Castle and local cage personalities figured rather indirectly in basketball doings of last week.

"Bus" Reiber, one of the greatest basketball players to come out of New Castle High and later a varsity man at Duquesne, played a minor role in the coaching of the 1949 edition of the Iron Dukes.

Reiber returned from the war and enrolled at Duquesne to finish some of his collegiate credits. Since he was not playing intercollegiate ball, Bus helped handle the freshmen team for Chick Davies.

That squad included Ed Dahler, Charles Cooper, Steve Skendrovich, Jim Farrell and Joe Daugherty.

Farrell's last period collapse against Homestead was somewhat of a surprise to New Castle basketball fans who had seen the Steelers in action. The Section III champions appeared to have what it takes.

However, the old master was coaching against them. Chick was born in New Castle and he still has several relatives here who root for his teams.

Another fact that may be somewhat surprising is the fate of Section Three teams in the WPIAL playoffs. Despite the fact that this is generally considered one of the toughest sections in District VII, only New Castle and Aliquippa have ever been able to win the district basketball crown. The Red Hurricane copped the honors in 1927 and 1936. Last year, when Aliquippa went all the way, was the first time any other Section III champ has won the WPIAL.

New Castle fans at the NIT included Bob Jackson, Bill Clark, Paul Zarilla, Rich Baxter and Gilbert Terry, Jr.

Hop along, Cassidy, you can look natty, in a new spring Stetson. You'll also look snappy. Plenty to choose from you'll agree. So come and see 'em at

Cardinals Impressive In Swing Around Grapefruit Circuit

New York Yankees Worried Over Showing Of Pitchers

(By International News Service)
If any significance can be attached to grapefruit league performance, the National league champion Brooklyn Dodgers had better beware of those St. Louis Cardinals.

The flag-chasing Red Birds rolled to their fourth straight exhibition win yesterday at St. Petersburg, Fla., a 14 to 5 slaughter of the Philadelphia Phils. Stan Musial's grand slam homer was the highlight of the Cardinals' sixth victory in nine spring tilts.

Yanks Clawed

The world champion Yankees saw another of their young pitching hopefuls battered around as they dropped a 9 to 4 decision to the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland, Fla. Lefty Ed Ford was tagged for all the Bengal runs in his four-inning stint.

Saul Rogovin, husky Tiger right-hander, limited the New Yorkers to two hits in five innings. The Boston Red Sox got only three hits as they lost 8 to 5 to the Senators at Sarasota. Dick Weik and Mickey Harris did the commendable pitching for the Nats.

Boston's Braves dropped their seventh in a row, a 12 to 7 decision to the Cincinnati Reds at Bradenton.

Giants Edge Bucs

In San Bernardino, Calif., the Giants managed to nudge out the Pirates, 9 to 8. Jack Harshman homered for the winners. Marv Rickert walloped a couple for the Bucs.

Lou Bessie and rookie Harry Byrd hurled the Phils' A's to a 3-hit, 7 to 1 triumph over the Memphis Chickasaws at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Indians Win

The Cleveland Indians downed Los Angeles 7 to 5 at Fullerton, Calif., and in Hollywood, the Stars defeated the Browns 9 to 2.

Gersons Defeat

K.P. Cubs, 73-51

Gersons defeated the K. P. Cubs Sunday afternoon at the K. P. hall 73-51 for their eleventh straight victory.

Ray Latsko was high for the winners with 21 points, followed by Duke Vitale, Mike Carbone and Tom Ford with 14.

The Gersons would like to play a game with some local team Wednesday evening before play begins in the junior YMCA tournament, it is announced.

SALLIES WIN MATCH

The Spring Hill Sallies duxpin team defeated the Oakland Bombers last night in a match at the Neshannock alleys with Clara Dudek high for the winners with a 334 total and Sophie Jendrysk high for the losers with a total of 296.

Council Sponsors Bird House Plan

Awards Will Be Made At Banquet

One of the features of the coming County Council of Sportsmen's banquet will be the bird box building project by members of the Junior Conservation Clubs affiliated with the senior clubs.

There will be four classifications in the project, namely, wren, bluebird, robin and martin—all songbirds. Competition is open to all members of the Junior Conservation groups who are 16 years of age or under.

The boxes must be built by the boys and judging will be based on design, originality and workmanship. There will be prizes awarded in each division, for example, $3 prize for winner in each classification and an additional $3 for winner of all classes.

Junior Conservation members may obtain information from the council clubs in their locality, which are listed as follows:

Ellwood-Wampum Rod and Gun Club, John Vogler
Lawrence County Sportsmen Association, Eddie Fritz, Jr.
Mahoning Sportsmen Association, Yves Latsko
Oakland Sportsmen Association, Joe Ostrowsky
Lawrence County Coon Hunters, E. Brown
Shenango Valley Beagle Club, John Greet
West Pittsburgh Rod and Gun Club, Tony Koe
Union High Junior Conservation, Pat Patterson

Villemain Wins From Gavilan

MONTREAL, March 21.—(INS)—Robert Villemain of France won a close ten-round decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba last night in an over-the-weight bout before 15,000 fans.

Gavilan, weighing 147½, forced the early rounds but the stocky Frenchman, who sealed 158 pounds had the advantage in the late rounds.

Villemain piled up his lead in points due to his superior infighting and his punches seemed to have more steam behind them.

Ex-Wrestling Champ Faced By Operation

BOSTON, March 21.—(INS)—Marvin Westenberg, 39, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, faced a delicate brain operation today as physicians at Boston City Hospital fought to save his life.

Westenberg suffered a head injury last Saturday night during an exhibition bout with his protégé, Dom Papaleo, Boston College football star. He has been semi-conscious ever since.

The bout was staged at the Boston Arena for the benefit of the B. C. Senior year book.

Injuries Plague New York Yanks

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21.—(INS)—Injuries have become a main concern of the New York Yankees.

Because so many stars have been sidelined during recent days the lads are wondering if they are in for a series of mishaps similar to those which were so successfully surmounted in 1949.

On the latest sick call Joe DiMaggio and Jerry Coleman are bothered by leg charley horses. Bob Porterfield has a pulled tendon in his right leg. A three game series from Morella's for the C-I league championship, 55 to 50.

The winners trailed by nine points with 2 minutes to play and were in arrears five markers with one minute to play. Key baskets by Jim Janacoe and Don Watters, plus a remarkable foul shooting record gave United the lead and the hall game.

Hope To Chase Jinx

Morella's will try to even the series against its "jinx" team when these two clubs meet again Wednesday.

Ecclesians Club handled the Wings, 40 to 34. The winners play the Rebels tonight for the championship of the third section of the Senior Y League. A win for the Ecclesians will end further activity in that loop because the Eccs have already won the first two sections.

Croton took the first of a three-game series from First U. P., 49 to 43. Nick Calderaro was red hot as he sparked the Croton quint with 21 points. These clubs clash again tonight in the "A" church series.

In the seven o'clock encounter tonight AZA, champions of the junior church league, will play the YMCA Hi class. Croton tangles with First U. P. at eight, and Ecclesians Club takes on the Rebels at nine.

United, Croton, Ecclesians Win In Y Playoffs

United Engineering, Croton, and Ecclesians club won important play-off games last night at the YMCA. United staged the most brilliant rally seen on the Y court this year to take the first of a three game series from Morella's for the C-I league championship, 55 to 50.

The winners trailed by nine points with 2 minutes to play and were in arrears five markers with one minute to play. Key baskets by Jim Janacoe and Don Watters, plus a remarkable foul shooting record gave United the lead and the hall game.

Homers Fail To Help Bucs

Rickert Slams Two Homers, Fitz Gerald And O'Connell One

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 21.—(INS)—Four home runs couldn't make up for a less than illustrious pitching performance, so the Pittsburgh Pirates dropped a 9-8 series-opening game to the New York Giants yesterday in San Bernardino.

New York unlimbered a 17-hit attack to post its victory. The Giants clouted Elmer Riddle, the losing pitcher, for eight hits and scored six runs during the sixth and seventh innings. In the first five, they garnered seven bingles off Bob Chesnes.

Rickert Hits Two

Marv Rickert slapped a pair of homers and rookie Dan O'Connell and catcher Eddy Fitz Gerald each slammed one out of the park. Jack Kramer, whom the Giants obtained in a trade with the Boston Red Sox, was the winning pitcher.

Murry Dickson and Cliff Chambers are to take the mound for Pittsburgh today in Fresno, while Giant manager Leo Durocher will try Montia Kennedy and Sheldon Jones.

Middlecoff Wins Tourney

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 21.—(INS)—National Open Champion Cary Middlecoff drilled a three-under-par 69 on the final round to win the $10,000 Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament for the second straight year.

Middlecoff's blistering pace yesterday gave him a 72-hole total of 279, two strokes ahead of George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa. It was Middlecoff's second tournament win in a week.

Another Check

The National Open champion, who won $2,750 first place money in the Palm Beach Seminole tourney last week, picked up $2,000 for his Jacksonville victory.

Fazio shot a final-round 71 to win $1,400 second-place money. Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., finished third with 282, and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., tied for fourth place with 284. Skip Alexander, Bob Hamilton and Al Besselink deadlocked for fifth with 285.

New Castle Rifle Club Wins Match

The New Castle rifle club squeezed past Beaver Valley rifle club last night in an Interstate rifle league match at the Armory range, turning in a score of 1196 to 1194.

Wilbur Thomas with a brilliant 246 card was the shining light for New Castle, while Paul Carrigan's 240 was a big help also in winning the match.

The results: New Castle, Thomas 246, Carrigan 240, Jesse Moore 238, J. Williams 238, C. Johns 234—Total 1196. Beaver Valley: G. Kimmel 241, Thompson 240, Frey 239, Lowman 238, Genieve 236—Total 1194.

BULL PEN FOR PITCHERS ONLY

VERO BEACH, FLORIDA—He may be looking for the bullpen, but Brooklyn Dodger players Ralph Branca (left) and Jack Banta (right) thinks his place is home and not in the outfield during Spring training sessions. Evidently they convinced him that he had no future in baseball because he moved on to greener pastures.

Gomez And Satterfeld Winner May Get Crack At Title Bout

(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, March 21.—A one-time Tampa elevator boy who worked for five dollars a week probably will get a chance to win the fame and fortune that goes with the heavyweight boxing championship if he is the victor in his match tomorrow night in Chicago.

This 29-year-old puncher with the rags-to-riches ambition is Tommy Gomez. His foe is Bob Satterfield of Chicago.

Only yesterday secretary Truman Gibson of the International Boxing club received permission from the Illinois Athletic Commission to hold a title bout at the Chicago Stadium, May 19.

Mintz Interested

Gibson said he offered Ezzard Charles 40 per cent of the net receipts to risk his NBA heavyweight crown against the winner of the Gomez-Satterfield match. Charles' manager, Jake Mintz, replied from Pittsburgh where the champion is training for a match with Freddie Beshore.

"Very much interested in Satterfield and Gomez fight providing winner wins sensational. Will try to arrange for scout fight Wednesday. We can work out details when I get to Chicago."

Gomez' fight with Satterfield is scheduled for 10-rounds, but few believe it will last that long.

Both the Florida Spaniard and his opponent have tremendous punching power but Satterfield also has a reputation of chewing with a glass jaw.

Last Chance

This may be Gomez' last opportunity to reach boxing's pinnacle. He is not getting any younger, and a loss means he will have to fight in second rate arenas and clubs for second rate purses.

Twice before Gomez was rated the number three heavyweight. Both times he failed in an attempt to go higher. The last was in 1946 when Jersey Joe Walcott knocked him out.

Gomez' manager told him he wasn't ready for the match, but the veteran of the battle of the Bulge insisted on signing for it because he was "tired of fighting for peanuts."

Tommy's record during the past three years has been impressive. He scored 21 knockouts, won two decisions, and fought one draw while losing only twice. He has registered 10 knockouts in winning his past 12 fights.

NBA Playoff Games Start

Seventeen Teams
Are Participating

NEW YORK, March 21—(INS)—The National Basketball Association begins its marathon playoffs tonight.

Here is the setup:
The first four finishers in each of the three divisions play off in best-two-of-three series first in each division plays fourth place team; second place team plays third place team. The two winners in each division playoff play a two-of-three series.

The three ultimate winners qualify for the "semi-finals." The club that had the best winning percentage during the regular season draws a bye while the other two teams play each other. Then the winner of a two-of-three series plays the bye team a four-of-seven series for the championship.

Fort Wayne Wins
Chicago and Fort Wayne settled their third place tie in the Central Division last night when Fort Wayne won. Tonight Minneapolis meets Rochester to break their first place tie in the same division.

First round games tonight:
Sheboygan (4th in Western Div.) at Indianapolis (1st in Western Division); Tri Cities (Third in Western Div.) at Anderson (2nd in Western Division); New York (2nd in Eastern Division) at Washington (3rd in Eastern Division).

Until he turned the tables in the 1950 IC-4A indoor championships, Penn State's Jim Gehries had never licked Michigan State's Horace Smith in the hurdles. It was their fourth meeting.

Warriors-Syracuse Will Start Series

PHILADELPHIA, March 21—(INS)—The Philadelphia Warriors open a best-of-three game playoff tomorrow night against the Syracuse Nationals at Syracuse.

The Warriors finished fourth in the National Basketball Association's eastern division, while Syracuse took first place.

The second game will be played at the Philadelphia Arena Thursday and the third, if necessary, will be held at Syracuse Saturday.

Scheberies Is King Pin

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 21—(INS)—Jack Scheberies of San Jose State college emerged today as a strong candidate for heavyweight honors in the National Collegiate Boxing Championships at Penn State March 30-April 1.

Scheberies, who moved into the heavyweight berth when last year's runner-up, Don Schaeffer, was able to make the 175-pound weight, is unbeaten in eight bouts. The 22-year-old, 205-pound giant is credited either with a knockout or technical knockout in every start.

Talent Loaded
The emergence of Scheberies as a threat establishes the heavyweight division as probably the most talent-loaded class in the tournament.

Defending the title he won last year from Schaeffer will be Marty Crandell of Syracuse challenged by his three-time conqueror, Chuck Drazonovich of Penn State. Gabby Marek of Michigan State, Bill Kelum of Army, and the 1948 NCAA champion, Vito Parisi of Wisconsin.

By several odds, the Cubs are the strangest team in base.

Bradley Edges Kansas, 59-57

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 21—(INS)—Top-ranking Bradley of Peoria, Ill., staged a desperate second-half rally last night to squeak past Kansas University 59 to 57 in the Fifth District NCAA basketball playoff at Kansas City.

The victory qualified Bradley for the NCAA western playoffs Friday and Saturday in Kansas City.

Mosconi-Crane Match Is Even

PHILADELPHIA, March 21—(INS)—World champion Willie Mosconi and national titlist Irving Crane were all even at one block each today in the Ralph Greenleaf Memorial pocket billiards challenge tournament.

Mosconi took the afternoon match 125-77, while Crane took the evening session 125-104.

Ralph Greenleaf, who died last week, originally was scheduled to meet Mosconi in the 1250-point series. Upon Greenleaf's death, however, the Greenleaf Memorial cup was established and Crane was chosen as Mosconi's opponent.

A share of the proceeds will be turned over to Greenleaf's widow.

Vic Fritts, IC-4A high jump champion, who hails from Jenkintown, Pa., was the first Penn Stater ever to win a title in this event.

High Heels Criticized As Injurious To Women's Feet

By WALLACE S. HULLETT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON—Women who wear high-heeled shoes—and they include teen age Princess Margaret—were criticized today for deforming their feet by Norman Lake, one of Britain's foremost orthopedic surgeons.

"It is a pity," he commented, "that the public cannot be induced to believe that a shoe with a lower heel of the Cuban type, with a height of one and a half, or at most two inches, can be made to look quite smart and neat."

Edward Rayne, the man who makes shoes for Margaret and Queen Elizabeth, was undisturbed by Lake's criticism.

"A woman's choice is the deciding factor, whatever doctors say," he pointed out.

Since women prefer high heels to improve their appearance and carriage, Rayne is not worried about the future of his business.

Margaret likes shoes with two and three-fourths inch heels, nearly an inch above the maximum Lake would permit.

Takes Time to Show Effects
"The foot is a long-suffering structure which stands up remarkably well to abuse," Lake says, "and requires prolonged and forcible measures to change its configuration. Yet over the years, high heels do produce distortion, so that the wearer often reaches middle age before being compelled to seek relief."

The still plastic foot of the teenager, according to Lake, is more easily distorted, and it is at this age when young women first take to high heels that the chief harm is initiated.

"High heels, by throwing the weight of the body forward on the toes, causes bunions and other painful deformities," Lake declared. They also cause a mild curving of the spine in some women."

Nylons or silk stockings also increase the risk of cramp, he claimed. By reducing the friction between the sole of the foot and the inside of the shoe, they allow the foot to slide forward under the weight of the body.

Planada Skeleton Mystery Is Solved

MERCED, Cal.—(INS)—The case of the Planada skeleton mystery has been marked solved and Coroner J. C. Brooks of Merced county is smiling again.

The mystery began last December when the skeleton was found in a field near Planada in Merced county.

When news of the grim find got around, scores of persons contacted Coroner Brooks requesting if the remains might be those of a missing relative.

After exhausting local sources, Coroner Brooks sent the skeleton to Theodore P. McGown, associate professor of anthropology at the University of California.

Professor McGown determined recently that the skeleton was that of an Indian woman, between 55 and 60 years old.

If anyone calls now about the possibility the skeleton is that of a missing relative, Coroner Brooks can assure them it is certainly no relative. Because the Indian woman died 300 to 500 years ago.

Blue Grass Grows Orchids

LEXINGTON, Ky.—(INS)—Blue grass and orchids may be a strange combination but it's a reality.

Harold Wright, of near Lexington has established an orchid-growing project in the Blue Grass greenhouse. He has studied the plant for several years and has written a number of articles about the flower.

In his greenhouse Wright has separated one wing into two parts—one for adult orchids and the other for seedlings. He has 200 types of advanced hybrids and about 200 different hybrid seeds.

The seedling section sees the dustlike seed placed in flasks containing a chemical solution. At the end of an eight-month period, the seeds are placed in a "community pot" with 20 to 40 other plants. It stays there for a year and then is placed in the adult house.

P.H.C. Plans For Initiation Event

Members and guests of the Protected Home Circle met in the I. O. O. F. hall recently. President Mrs. Helen Hall conducted the business session.

Plans were made for class initiation in the I. O. O. F. hall on April 20 at 8 o'clock, with Mrs. S. H. Hadley and teams from Sharon in charge of the program. Announcement was also made of the state convention to be held at Conneaut Lake on June 26, 27 and 28.

Special guests were T. V. Radford of Sharpsville and Mr. Martin of Sharon.

Blue Grass Grows Orchids

TEMPERATURES must be maintained at one standard to protect the flowers. Rainwater is used for fear chemicals in regular water distribution would be harmful.

Wright said a plant blooms once each year and the flowers will last about two weeks. Once it's deep-rooted, an orchid plant can live for 75 years, and, in some cases, 150 years.

The average elevation of the earth above sea level is approximately 2,800 feet.
